Wealthy Men Argue With the Ways and Means Committee Against

A STATE TAX ON CORPORATIONS.

Harry Oliver Suggests That Monopolies Should be Taxed.

A SERIOUS BLOW TO CO-OPERATION.

Pennsylvania a Blind Giant, Bound Down by Many Difficulties.

A number of prominent Pittsburg manufacturers entered their protest yesterday against the provision of the proposed revenue bill taxing manufacturing corporations. H. W. Oliver, Jr., suggested that railroad, light and fuel monopolies should be taxed by the State, and held that the measure in tion between employers and employes.

· TEHOM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. ] HARRISBURG, February 21.-H. W. Oliver, Jr., who came over from Pittsburg this morning to labor with the Ways and Means Committee of the House, sees politi cal consequences which the members of the Legislature ought to keep before their eyes along side the economic facts, before they decide to follow the ideas of the State officials, as shown in their general revenue bill, and impose a State tax on corporations. This view of the question was not formally laid before the Ways and Means Committee to-day by the speakers, but is undoubtedly a point they have not overlooked.

The Ways and Means Committee meeting was held this afternoon in the hall of the House of Representatives. Chairman Graham sat in the chair of the Chief Clerk, with Secretary Dravo by his side. The gentlemen who appeared on behalf of the manufacturing interests, were Representa-tive Bean, Cyrus E. Elder, of the Cambria Iron and Steel Company; H. W. Oliver, Pittsburg; Mr. Wilson, of Philadelphia; Colonel I. N. Schoonmaker, of Pittsburg ex-Auditor General Niles, and W. C. Quincy of Jones & Laughlins, Pittsburg. The fight for the particular provision of the bill under consideration was made by Hon. Henry Hall, of Mercer, who questioned and cross-questioned the speakers and made it plain that if the m nulacturing centers were against the bill, the rural population was by no means unanimous against it.

A PROTEST FROM $29,000,000. Colonel Bean simply read a protest from the manufacturers of the Schuylkill valley, representing $20,000,000 capital and 8,000 employes. Their objections to the tax on orporations are that the tax was only repealed in 1885, and that since that time many companies have been induced thereby to become corporations; that Ohio and New Jersey, competing with Pennsylvania on the west and east, have no such tax; that such a tex tends to discourage co-operative companies; that there is considerable difference against the Pennsylvania manufacturer between the wages paid here and in New England; that the imposition of the tax will tend to the lowering of wages, and that the decrease that might be brought about in manufacturing would injure agricultural interests by destroying markets for agricultural products.

Cyrus Elder, of the Cambria Company, Sec-retary of the Philadelphia Association of Manufacturers, said it was an admitted fact that the national prosperity was largely due to the policy of discriminating in taxation in favor of the manufacturer. He thought it ought to be a serious question with Pennit ought to be a scrious question with rens-sylvania whether she of all others should depart from this policy. He traced the his-lory of the taxation and exemption of man-ulacturers, and stated that while the revenue from corporations was $1,534,110 in 1884, the year before the repeal of the tax, the tax, it last year had increased to $1,814,848 from alone. Mr. Elder stated to Mr. Hall that tax on manufacturing corporations would ready decrease the revenue, as mannacturers would not form new ones, and old ones would surrender their charters.

TAX MONOPOLIES.

H. W. Oliver, Jr., said that from 1878 to 1884 manufacturing corporations decreased to less than 100, and no new charters were taken out. Allegheny county had but one.
"It the bill becomes a law," he said, "it will cost me $30,000 where it now doesn't cost a cent." The bill he also declared was direct blow at co-operation 'How will you avoid this and at the same time create revenues?" asked Representa-

"Tax corporations having exclusive rights," answered Mr. Oliver. "Tax railroads, water companies, gas companies, electric light companies and such as these. W meet a bitter competition from the South now and why aid it, and so destroy the producing power that makes this Common-wealth a fat field for these monopolies. Baise your revenue from them."

In answer to a question about the extent of co-operation in Allegheny county, Mr. Oliver stated he could not answer fully, but could say there was hardly a limited com-pany in Pittsburg in which some workingmen have not other than a wage interest.

The principal debate of the afternoon was between ex-Auditor General Niles, who is said to represent Baltimore and New York capitalists, and Representative Hall. Hall's questions were direct and to the point on the constitutional features of the case, and the replies of the ex-Auditor General were for the most part evasive or after the Yankee fashion, answering question with question. Mr. Niles' best point on the constitutional argument was that the imposition of a tax on manufacturing corporaons creates an inequality in taxation on subjects of the same class, something the Constitution forbids, based this on the fact that an individual manufacturer and a manufacturing corporation were in all respects on the same footing in their business and in the markets where they bought and sold, and therefore to impose a State tax on the latter and not on the former amounted to oppression. The ex-Auditor General characterized this class of legislation as unfriendly to the best in-terests of the State. He compared Pennsylvania to a blind giant, bound down by many difficulties.

A BLIND GIANT.

"But," inquired Representative Hall, "doesn't Pennsylvania get along pretty well after all for a blind man?" "Yes," admitted Mr. Niles, "but your unfriendly legislation which forces people to get married in New Jersey, has also sent a reat deal of money from Philadelphia into the same State to be invested in manufacto-

"In other words," retorted Representative Hall, "Pennsylvania not only does well, but its prosperity spreads beyond its own

Representative Hall, before leaving the ex-Auditor General, succeeded in showing by hard questioning that that gentleman had not always thought on this tax subject as he does now, and that the letter which he wrote to Governor Pattison indorsing the exemption of manufacturing corporations, without which indersement the Governor would not have permitted the measure to secome a law, was most unwillingty wrung from Mr. Niles Mr. B. Q. Wilson, of Philadelphia, argued that the Constitution permitted the classification of corporations, and that under this classification manufacturing corporations could be made exempt from taxation, Mr. Hall replied that the Constitution would permit their classification for taxation, but not for the exemption of a certain COKE MEN KICK.

Colonel Schoonmaker devoted a brief time to the coke companies and corporations. Previous to 1885 there were but four corporations in this line where now there are ten. He referred to the labor troubles of the coke region, and said his own company had been been chartered for the purpose of co-operation with employes as a so-lution of the labor problem. The legisla-tion under consideration, being a consider-able burden on corporations, would be a blow at the happy consummation coke men desire to reach. The legislation would also be a great aid to-his competitors in West Virginia and elsewhere.

W. C. Quincy, of Jones & Laughlins, referred to the heavy indirect taxes already paid by mining and manufacturing corpor-ations through the tax on the products transported from them. Seventy-eight per cent of the traffic of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Pennsylvania was from these sources, and they, therefore, paid, he ar-gued, that proportion of the railroad com-panies' tax. Chicago, the great distributing point of the West, has the advantage of water competition, and so has Cleveland and other points in Ohio. "Will you further handicap our efforts to compete with these? Our manufactories should be fostered," he "for each one of them makes a local market. Among the Constitutional points touched on during the discussions, particularly in the verbal contest between Messrs. Niles controversy was a direct blow to co-opera- and Hall, was the one that it was unconstitutional to exempt manufacturing cor-porations from taxation; it was also unconstitutional to exempt building and loan associations. There seemed to be little difference of opinion on this point.

IN THE INAUGURAL TRAIN.

Quick Time Will Enable Pittsburgers to See the Show in a Day. The Pennsylvania Railroad vesterday assued a circular to the effect that commencing Monday, February 25, the second section of the Atlantic express, No. 20, leaving Pittsburg at 3 o'clock A. M., will be run through to Baltimore and Washington, arriving at the former place at 1:15 P. M.

and at Washington at 2:30 P. M.
The train will follow on its first trip President-elect Harrison's special train, which will be known as "the first inaugural train." The former train will be run every morning until after the inauguration ceremonies. The object in putting it on was to give people in this city, who had but little time at their disposal, an opportunity to leave Pittsburg early Monday morning, get into Washington in time to see the inau-gural parade, and arrive home again late the same night. .

THE VETERAN LEGION GATHERING. Delegations From the Two Cities Join the Others at Altoons. The annual National Encampment of the Veteran Legion begins to-day at Altoona. No. 1, of Pittsburg and Allegheny, left last night, and a number of delegations went through from Youngstown, O., Missouri and other parts of the West. Officers will be elected, and the regular yearly business transacted.

President Grant, in 1870. He has been reappointed by every President since then, including President Cleveland. I can assure you, however, that he is no Mugwump, but a Grant Republican, and that means a Republican first, last and all the time.

Owing to the intense heat of the tropics and the fact that this Republic is engaged in a civil war, it seemed most proper that I should use the Americus Club umbrella for protection against the sun's rays and the dangers of internecine combat. I can assure you the protection which it typifies is no misnomer, and from Old Sol and Haytian bullets it secured me complete immunity. As I leave to-day, and as Consul Gautier is a good Republican and much interested in your club, because of your ridelity to General Grant and true Republican principles, I presented him with the emblem principles, I presented him with the emblem which you all cherish, and which has been a patriotic incentive in our recent party successes. GOOD NEWS TO CARRIAGE OWNERS. The Unsightly Vehicle Liceuse Plates to I Collins, of Columbus.

Done Awny With. City Treasurer Denniston has designed and is now issuing, a neat new license plate for vehicles, a substitute for the unsightly big plates heretofore issued. The oldfashioned plates created considerable dissat isfaction and complaint from persons who owned buggies and carriages, and to overcome this a small nickel plate about two inches long has been issued for their use. The plate for wagons has also been improved, and a bright-colored circular design is now issued which is an ornament to an ordinary wagon.

Mr. Denniston, in speaking of vehicle license yesterday, complained that up to date but few persons had taken out their license for 1889. In 1888 there were in this city 5,469 vehicle licenses issued. Up to date but 214 have been taken.
